

Motorized Trip Gear List

Below is a list of suggested items that most people find helpful. Remember weight limits in the aircrafts are 25 pounds per person. This includes your beverages if you are flying them into Marble Canyon and sleeping gear (unless you have rented gear from us). Also, consider that most people pack more than they actually use. Check “weather” on Additional Information sheet.

Please separate your day gear from your night gear prior to your pick up the morning of your trip. Remember your night gear is stowed inside a waterproof tarp and you will not have access to it during the day.

Day Gear:

A small waterproof daypack or backpack is useful for stowing gear that you need access to during the day and carry on hikes with you. If you do not have a waterproof daypack, you may consider lining a regular daypack with a plastic bag. The items you should include in your daypack but are not limited to are:

- Two piece waterproof rain gear (not only for rain but also for splash from the rapids)
- Sunscreen (SPF30 or Higher recommended)
- Recreational Sport Sandal (for hiking, boat, and camp with Neoprene or wool sock)
 - Teva, Chaco, Alps, Merrill, etc.
- Camera and film (a Ziploc to store camera & film is helpful)
- *Hard Plastic Water bottle for hiking (at least one liter)
- Lip balm (with SPF)
- Bandana (to dip in the water and tie around your neck – it will keep you cool)
- Sunglasses with retention string
- Sun hat with retention clips (to attach to shirt or life jacket)

Night Gear:

Because your night gear is wrapped in a waterproof tarp, it is not necessary to have a dry bag. A duffle bag would be sufficient for your trip. The items we recommend you bring and store in your night gear are:

- 2 Pair of nylon or quick drying shorts
- 1 Pair lightweight long pants
- *2 Short sleeve shirts (T's or tanks)
- *1 Long sleeve shirt (for sun protection)
- 2 Swimsuits
- 2 Pair of Socks
- 1 Polypropylene Shirt
- 1 Polypropylene Pant
- Underwear / Undergarments
- Headlamp or Flashlight and extra batteries
- Small quick drying towel and washcloth
- ID, Insurance Card, & Credit Card (for stops at Phantom Ranch and in the event of emergency evacuations)
 - Cash or Check (for gratuities at the end of the trip)
 - Medications (store in a Ziploc-type bag for safe keeping)
 - If you have systemic anaphylactic reaction to food or insect stings, please consider bringing your own EPI-kit.
- Toiletries (environmentally friendly if possible):
 - Toothbrush, toothpaste, and dental floss
 - Soap and Shampoo
 - Deodorant
 - Feminine Hygiene products
 - Baby Wipes (just plain handy)
 - Body lotion
 - Small packs of Kleenex
- Zip lock bags (for storing wet items and keeping things dry)

Optional Items:

- Extra Film and Batteries
- Twin Sheet (in case you get too hot in your sleeping bag at night)
- Gloves - for hiking, scrambling over rocks, etc. (In the hottest summer months, rocks get hot)
- Beer, soda, wine or liquor (if desired) – Please see enclosed order form for purchasing option.

*Indicates items are available in “Hatch Gear”. For your convenience, other gear available through Red Rock Outfitters – Catalog Enclosed.
